

We're looking for a Digital Designer!

We have an exciting new position for a Digital Designer available due to our continued growth. You should be a good all rounder who isn't afraid to get stuck in.

At John Greed Jewellery we believe that great employees are worth investing in. As one of the UK's most exciting and fastest growing independent jewellery retailers, our success is down to our talented team and innovative approach. We are now the UK's leading seller of PANDORA and one of the largest engravers of jewellery in the UK. With our flourishing online presence and flagship Lincoln store we hope that you'll become part of our story.

What's important to us:

Curiosity - frequently the best solution is not immediately obvious. By using your natural curiosity you should feel empowered to excel at everything you and your colleagues do.

Passion & Drive – You don't end up in the creative industry unless you do what you love. But even with passion and talent design is a labour of love. The work entails bizarre briefs, long edits and tricky workloads. You have to use that passion to keep going and know you can make it better.

Agility – flexibility and a desire to be nimble, smart, and effective are important to the John Greed culture. We move fast, cutting out red tape to get the job done.

Experience – we're building a strong team with amazing track records of achievement in multidisciplinary environments.

As an Digital Designer, you'll need:

- Strong and varied portfolio of digital work
- Proven track record of delivering a wide range of work from UI & UX, HTML emails, digital advertising, engaging presentations & video/animations
- The confidence to present and rationalise concepts to stakeholders
- Strong knowledge of HTML & CSS
- Proven understanding of typography, layout, colour and grid structures
- Expertise in Adobe Creative Suite including After Effects & Premiere, Sketch

What we can offer:

Aside from working alongside brilliant, dedicated, passionate, down-to-earth, inquisitive, warm, and thoughtful people, we also provide great perks:

- Flexible working hours
- Relaxed, spacious office in the heart of Lincoln
- Free off-road parking with quick access to the high street
- Company bonus program
- Staff discount of 33% or higher on jewellery
- Holiday buy back scheme

Salary Guide: £22,000 - £28,000
